Sample Award-Winning Jambalaya in Booth 5686

Dede's Cajun Cuisine invites attendees at the Winter Fancy Foods Show to try signature Jambalaya

DENVER (Dec. 11, 2018) – Cajun food manufacturer Dede's Cajun Cuisine invites attendees to visit Booth 5686 at the 2019 Specialty Foods Association's 44th Winter Fancy Food Show, at the Moscone Center, San Francisco, Jan. 13-15 2019. Owner Debbie Frei will serve samples of her award-winning, signature Jambalaya made with Dede's Cajun Cuisine Jambalaya Starter Sauce.

Dede's Cajun Cuisine, founded in 2011, features two all-natural, jarred starter sauces, a Louisiana-style hot sauce, and Southern Spices. "I believe we have a niche that retail stores need," says Debbie Frei, owner of Dede's Cajun Cuisine. "Our jarred sauces take the hard work out of making classic Louisiana-style Cajun food and fit in nicely on any supermarket shelf, thanks to our new labels and packaging."

About Dede's Cajun Cuisine

Dede's Cajun Cuisine started in the fall of 2011 when founder Debbie Bailey Frei wanted to share her love of cooking and southern heritage with her friends and family. Debbie created her Jambalaya and Creole starter sauces pulling from her Southern roots and traditional recipes to help families create delicious, healthy, quick and easy dinners that can be on the table in no time. It's her passion to preserve these recipes and pass on these slow-cooked starter sauces with a modern goal of getting dinner ready quickly. Dede's product line includes Jambalaya Starter Sauce, Creole Starter Sauce, Louisiana Style Red Hot Sauce, and Southern Spices and is available for wholesale or retail sale.
